

International Education Week

Learn more at
IEW.state.gov

NOVEMBER 2018

Sponsored by the Office of International Students, Provost's Office, Office of Career Planning and Professional Development, The Graduate Center Mina Rees Library, The Wellness Center, and the Teaching and Learning Center

Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thu.	Fri.
12 Zotero on your Laptop for International Students 10:00-11:30 AM, Rm C196.05 Join colleagues from the Graduate Center Mina Rees Library to learn how to use this excellent, open-source citation management software. We will teach you how to install Zotero on your laptop, sign up for an account, and the basics of how to use Zotero. Please bring your laptop to this workshop. RSVP required	13 Post-Completion Optional Practical Training Workshop for F-1 Students 10:00-11:30 AM, Rm 9207 Learn about Post-Completion OPT, a temporary employment authorization available to F-1 students after graduation. We will discuss eligibility criteria, application procedures, and the deadlines to apply. RSVP required Teaching as an International Student: Power, Professional Relationships, and Pedagogical Strategies 4:00 -6:00 PM, Rm C201 Teaching as an international student can be challenging. As international graduate students, we often do not know what to expect when we first step into the classroom as teaching fellows or adjuncts. Join colleagues from the Teaching and Learning Center for a workshop where we will share and explore strategies that can help graduate student instructors to address these challenges. RSVP Required	14 The Job Search Process in the United States for International Students 9:30-11:00 AM, Rm 9206 Are you uncertain of how to navigate the job search process in the United States? Attend the U.S. Job Search Process for International Students Workshop to gain the skills necessary to enter the professional workforce in the U.S! RSVP required Fulbright U.S. Student Program Information Session 1:00-3:00 PM, Rm 9206 Meet the Fulbright Program Advisor at The Graduate Center and learn about the types of grants available for research abroad, the eligibility requirements, and the deadlines to apply. Note: you must be a U.S. Citizen at the time of application. Open to all GC students. RSVP required	15 Off-Campus Employment Workshop for International Students 3:00-4:30 PM, Rm 9207 Learn about Curricular Practical Training (F-1) and Academic Training (J-1), a temporary employment authorization during your program study. During the workshop, we will discuss eligibility criteria, application procedures, and the deadlines to apply. RSVP required	16 Culture Shock! 2:00-3:00 PM, Rm 3212 The Wellness Center presents an interactive workshop on the challenges, joys, common experiences, and difficulties of adjusting to New York City and/or Graduate School. If you are new to the city and/or graduate school or have been here for a while and still feel challenged by the adjustment, you are welcome to join us! RSVP required Life After F-1 or J-1 Student Status Presented by Immigration Attorney Michael J. Goldstein 3:00-4:30 PM, Rm 9206 Do you want to learn more about the different legal status options that allow you to work in the United States? Attend this session to learn about H1-B, O-1 and other employment based legal status options in the United States from an experienced immigration attorney! RSVP required